

Rely on water from the Dawson River? What does it mean to you?

Share what you know - tell us what you think

We all rely on healthy waterways. Clean water is essential for our health, our way of life, and our industries.

To protect our waterways, we need to collect information on their value to different users, how waterways are currently being used or affected by different uses, and how the community thinks they should be managed for the future.

If you care about water quality, or have experience managing landscapes in the Upper Dawson catchment, join us for this important discussion:

DATE: Tuesday 16 February 2010
TIME: 9am-5pm (all day event)
PLACE: Leichardt Hotel
Dawson Street
Taroom, QLD.

The Fitzroy Basin Association Inc and the Queensland Government are hosting this Fitzroy River catchment community workshop to discuss local Environmental Values that will help to set Water Quality Objectives. This information will be used to develop a Fitzroy Environmental Values and Water Quality Objectives report that will be scheduled into Environmental Protection Policy (Water) 2009.

Morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea will be provided
REGISTRATION IS ESSENTIAL - RSVP by Tuesday 2 February!
